Reception Desks

Functional, aesthetically pleasing and value oriented, Arnold's quality Reception Desks constitute one of the most impressive collections of task oriented furniture in the contract industry. Numerous shapes, styles, configurations and sizes can be specified to fit virtually any application -- from high traffic reception areas, to prestigious executive offices.

Reception Desks, including a number of new models, can be specified in wood, laminate, or both, with stone inlay and overlay options for the transaction counters. Shapes and sizes can be readily modified for special needs; optional accessories (see price list) can be added to meet data and electrical requirements.

As with all Arnold products, specifiers can mix and match materials, colors, and veneer patterns to place their own signature on the finished product. Arnold Reception Desk's product line successfully meets the objective of The Arnold Group -- to provide flexibility, while maintaining quality and value.
